Because of our efforts to secure some excellent and informative speakers, your conference experience in the great city of San Francisco is sure to be enhanced! The more challenging the times, the more leadership matters and our keynote speaker knows about leading during challenging times. Credited for developing the "surge" strategy in Iraq, Jack Keane, retired Four-Star General and Former Vice Chief of Staff of the US Army will captivate you with his stories of living life among heroes, offering his insights and experiences on leadership. The Honorable Michael Fryzel, NCUA Chairman will be with us to provide an update on NCUA matters to include the Corporate Stabilization plan, as will Al Runnels, Acting CFO Treasury Department, who will address the Troubled Assets Relief Program. These speakers are but a sample of what awaits you in San Francisco.

The Defense Credit Union Council Conference will educate and motivate, provide important time to network and help you plan for the future. Our corporate partners will be there to offer business solutions and innovative ideas, as well as present valuable sessions on such topics as risk management, fraud protection, strategic marketing to retiring boomers and more. And just as important, our Showcase will once again help us all to build connections, reconnect with trusted partners and meet some exciting new businesses that can help strengthen our credit unions for a brighter future!

Now more than ever, it's critical that we stand together as our industry has for 45 years. The Defense Credit Union Council means business!
